

The Black Rose by Frederick A Read

Advance Information from Guaranteed Books

This is the second book within the “Adventures of John Grey” series (but the prequel to the first book A Fatal Encounter) that follows a daring young officer, whose career within the Kriegsmarine was cut short by the demands of a diminutive Gestapo agent.

When Captain Von Meir and his ship “The Black Rose” sailed, no worship nor merchantman was safe.

Frederick A Read was born in Colchester and grew up in Northern Ireland and Scotland, but has lived in Merthyr Vale for over thirty years. He is a retired Royal Naval sub-mariner and is married with two grown-up children.
